

Introducing Shutterstock Select, Premium Footage Filmed by Industry Experts

November 28, 2018 4:30 PM EST

Offering a diverse collection of over 10,000 premium 4K video clips filmed using cinema-grade gear

NEW YORK, Nov. 28, 2018 /PRNewswire/ -- Shutterstock, Inc. (NYSE: SSTK), a leading global technology company offering high-quality assets, tools and services through its creative platform, today announced Shutterstock Select, a premium tier of royalty-free video content. The diverse collection of video clips includes exclusive content with everything from everyday moments to blockbuster action scenes, all captured by industry professionals using cinema-grade cameras and selected by our expert curators.

This new offering of content offers the highest production value available in the industry and features in-demand content categories such as cinematic aerials, millennial adventure, gastronomy, action scenes, and workplace scenes. The shots combine artistic and technical excellence and are filmed on cinema-grade equipment including RED cameras and cameras using Cine lenses. A highly-skilled team of professional filmmakers and motion designers created this selection of footage with a particular focus on executing the most exceptional camera movements, composition and acting.

"As most filmmakers and cinematographers know, creating high quality establishing shots are important to any film, but are also very expensive to produce," said Jon Oringer, Founder and CEO of Shutterstock. "We're thrilled to now have this new offering of Hollywood-quality content to our customers who are looking to elevate their video projects with a cinematic flair."

As stock footage continues to solidify itself as an essential pillar within the TV and filmmaking process, Shutterstock is expanding its offerings to meet this ever-growing demand. Shutterstock's current collection of over 12 million high-quality videos empowers filmmakers all over the world with the content they need to express their creative vision. With this highly curated new offering, filmmakers can now choose from a selection of premium footage produced by industry professionals using top of the range equipment.
