

Shutterstock Surpasses 2 Million Video Clips in Its Marketplace

September 2, 2014

Company's collection also includes over 65,000 4K videos

NEW YORK, Sept. 2, 2014 /PRNewswire/ -- Shutterstock, Inc. (NYSE: SSTK), a leading global provider of commercial digital imagery and music, today announced it has surpassed 2 million video clips in its collection, which also includes more than 65,000 videos in state-of-the-art 4K. The company boasts an ever-expanding royalty-free video offering, adding over 16,000 clips weekly.

"As Shutterstock exceeds 2 million videos, we're proud of the vast array of content available to our customers around the world," remarked Shutterstock's VP of New Business, Ben Pfeifer. "Thanks to rapidly evolving technologies like 4K, quality video imagery has never been more readily available to everyone from independent videographers to major film studios."

To celebrate this milestone, Shutterstock has curated a reel entitled "Around the World in 80 Clips." The video highlights the global diversity of the Shutterstock's video collection, as well as Shutterstock Music, a new content offering that premiered in May. All clips featured are in 4K.

Video footage from Shutterstock has appeared in such films and television shows as House of Cards, The Walking Dead, Iron Man 3, Thor: The Dark World, Zach Braff's Wish I Was Here and the recent box office hit Guardians of the Galaxy.
